INTRODUCTION.

THE design of this pamphlet is to present in compact form such religious data of the human race since the year A. D. 1 as may be helpful to all interested in the progress of Religion. So many wild claims are made in these days about the decline of Evangelical Religion, claims based on the ignorance and upheld by the hopes of Free-thinkers, Agnostics, Romanists, and other opponents of Protestant Christianity, that a few stubborn facts seem to be called for, put into such condensed form as shall command general attention. The cry of the Agnostic Scientist is for facts. He here will find an abundant supply, from the best sources, which he may with profit "read, mark, and inwardly digest."

Should pastors make use of the accompanying tables in their monthly concerts, they may find incentives to more earnest work on the part of the Church, drawn from the great progress of Evangelical Religion in spite of the small pecuniary outlay by the Churches. On the other hand, the last table will account for the bitter fact that more progress has not been made. When Christ's Church shall be as lavish in its outlay of men and money as the world is, the conversion of Nations will not long be postponed.

By far the larger part of the work involved in the preparation of this pamphlet was done by Mr. A. O. Van Lennep, so well known by Sunday School workers, as the "Oriental Lecturer." Since the work was put into the publisher's hands, Mr. Van Lennep has gone to his rest. The Sunday School teachers of Chautauqua, Framingham, and other summer assemblies have thus lost a gentle and laborious fellow-worker and teacher, whose place it will be hard to fill.

PROGRESS OF THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION IN THE WORLD.

This will be considered under five different phases.

FIRST.

PROGRESS OF CHRISTIANITY IN THE WORLD FROM A. D. 1 TO A. D. 1880.

No specific data exist on the subject of numbers, except in a general way, from A. D. 1 to 1000; but the best authorities give 50 millions as the number of Christians in A. D. 1000, and so for the different years as follows:

A. D.	1	Beginning of Christian era.
"	1000	50 Millions of Christians.
"	1500	100 " " "
"	1700	155 " " "
"	1800	200 " " "
"	1880	415 " " "

By what precedes we find the following gains:

From A. D.		Average per year
1 to 1000, or in 1000 yrs.,	50 Millions.	50,000
1000 " 1500, " 500 " 50 "		100,000
1500 " 1700, " 200 " 55 " " 275,000
1700 " 1800, " 100 " 45 " " 450,000
1800 " 1880, " 80 " 215 " " 2,688,000

Or, An increase of 50 Millions in 1000 years,
Doubling in the next 500 "
Doubling again after 300 "
And more than doubling during the last 80 "

N. B.—It should be borne in mind that the Protestant Reformation began in 1500, that the great awakening under Wesley took place during the last century, and the inauguration of Foreign and Home Missions only at the beginning of the present century.

The authorities consulted for the above statistics are Ferussac, "Bulletin Universel," for A. D. 1500 to 1800; and Turner's "History of the Anglo-Saxons," for A. D. 1000. Prof. Schem, in "Statistics of the World" for 1876, gives the number of Christians for 1875 as 389 millions; and for 1880 (as reported by Dr. Dorchester, in "Problem of Religious Progress,") as 410,900,000. Returns, however, from several European and other countries, where the census was taken in 1880 and only recently come to hand, increase these figures to about 415 millions. See "The Statesman's Year Book" for 1882 and 1883.

SECOND.

GROWTH OF THE POPULATION OF THE WORLD UNDER CHRISTIAN GOVERNMENTS; VIZ., ROMAN CATHOLIC, GREEK CHURCH, AND PROTESTANT GOVERNMENTS.

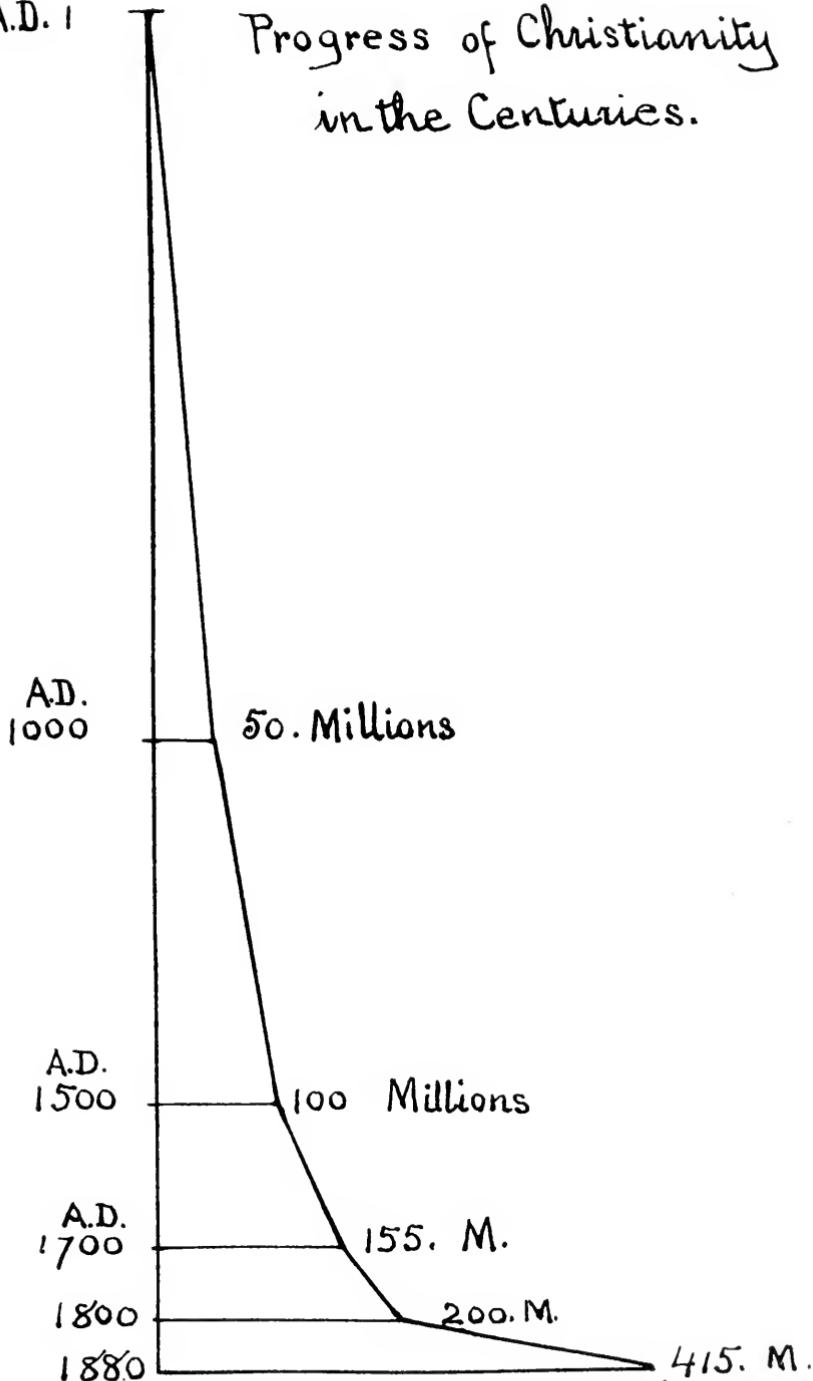

This table begins with the Reformation:

Under Govern- ments of	Roman Catholics	Greek Church	Protestants
A. D. 1500	80 Millions	20 Millions
" 1700	90 "	33 "	32 Millions
" 1830	134 "	57 "	193 "
" 1880	192 "	110 "	445 "

Showing 747 millions of the human race under Christian governments in 1880.

From Problems of "Religious Progress" with Modifications.

According to recent returns, England alone has now over 303 millions under her sway.

N. B.—The authorities for the above table are, for 1500 and 1700, Turner's "History of Anglo-Saxons," and Seaman's "Progress of Nations," and Adrian Balbi, "Geographie Universelle"; while the figures for 1880 have been compiled from "Statesman's Year Book," in 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883.

THIRD.

THE STATE OF THE RELIGIOUS WORLD IN 1880.

According to Behm and Wagner, the population of the world in 1880 was as follows:

Europe	327,500,000
Asia	795,591,000
Africa	205,823,200
Australia	4,232,000
America	100,415,400
Polar Regions	82,500
	<hr/>
	1,433,644,100

Divided as follows:

Christians, Protestants . . .	135 Millions
Roman Catholics 195 "
Eastern Church . 85 " . . .	415 Millions
Mohammedans	175 "
Jews	8 "
Pagans (Shintos, Buddhists, Brahminists, Fetish, etc.)	835 "
	<hr/>
	1,433 "

See "Modern Missions: their Trials and Triumphs" (Young), London, and "Die Bevölkerung der Erde," Behm and Wagner.

Rev. H. H. Jessup, D.D., for many years a missionary in Syria, is our authority for putting the Mohammedans as high as 175 millions. He is also our authority for the number of Mohammedans under Christian governments as follows:

Under Great Britain	41,000,000
" Russia	6,000,000
" France	2,000,000
" Netherlands	21,000,000
	70,000,000

N. B.—"The Mohammedan Missionary Problem," by Dr. Jessup, gives the number under the Netherlands as one million. He has informed us that it should be 21 millions instead.

These data show the following relative gains since the Reformation:

	Under R. C. Gov.		Under Greek Ch. Gov.		Under Prot. Gov.
	GAINS	AVR. PER YR.	GAINS	AVR. PER YR.	GAINS	AVR. PER YR.

FIFTH.

RELIGIOUS STATISTICS OF THE UNITED STATES AS COMPARED WITH ITS POPULATION, FROM 1800 TO 1880.

These statistics show the increase of the population of the United States and of the Protestants and Roman Catholics at four different times; viz., 1800, 1850, 1870, and 1880 (the only dates obtainable). The data of the Roman Catholics are taken from their own authorities; and the Evangelical data are compiled from the reports of the divers religious bodies. (See, "Problem of Religious Progress," by Dorchester.) To the number of communicants of the latter $2\frac{1}{2}$ have been added to represent the probable number of persons, including children, who are members of the congregations though not communicants. They have been put down in a separate column under the term of Adherents. To the so-called Liberal denominations we have also added $2\frac{1}{2}$ members to their official returns, but have not kept them separate.

After deducting the Catholics and Evangelicals from the total population, the remainder have been put down as non-classified, which of course includes Indians, Mormons, and Chinese.

In compiling the annexed table of statistics, we have availed ourselves of the very elaborate researches of Dr. Dorchester, in "Problem of Religious Progress." See chapter on "Religious Progress and Status in the United States."

From "Problem of Religious Progress" by Dorchester with modifications -

Progress of Protestants
& Catholics in the U.S. as Compared with Growth of Population.

From these statistics it appears that the increase of population of the United States, as compared with the Communicants of Evangelical Churches, was as follows:

	Pop.	Comts.
From 1850 to 1870 (20 years)	66 per cent.	89 per cent.
" 1870 " 1880 (10 ")	30 "	50 "

In another form:

Communicants in 1800	1	in 14½
" " 1850	"	6½
" " 1870	"	5¾
" " 1880	"	5

N. B.—In accounting for the large percentage of "unclassified" in Chart No. V, we presume that the Church statistics gathered in the earlier years of this century were defective, leaving many to be numbered as "unclassified" who really belonged to the Evangelical ranks.

* Contributions for the Christian Commission through "The Y. M. C. A." are included in the returns for 1860 to 1869.

For Foreign Missions

1810 to 1819		$ 206,210..	Amounts raised in the U.S. from 1810. 1880 by decade.

1860 to 1869		$ 21,015,719..
1870 to 1880	11 years	$ 31,373,154..

Thus the cause of Foreign Missions is first started, stimulating the Home Mission Work, which in its turn receives greater support from the Christian public.

Do not these steadily increasing figures give us a reason for the increasing success of both Foreign and Domestic Missions?

WORKS TO BE CONSULTED.

The works to which we will refer the reader for further information on the subjects treated in these pages are: "The Problem of Religious Progress," by Rev. D. Dorchester, D.D., published by Phillips & Hunt, 805 Broadway, New York; it is full of statistics on all the different denominations both in this country and abroad. "Modern Missions: Their Trials and Triumphs," by Dr. Young, is considered one of the best on the general subject of Foreign Missions. "The Mohammedan Missionary Problem," by Rev. H. H. Jessup, D. D., is a forcible presentation of this subject.
